

PRESS RELEASE

Caterease to Host West Coast Training

For Immediate Release
Friday, February 6, 2004

Naples, Florida –

Caterease, the catering and event management software industry leader, is taking its show on the road once again.

In late March, Caterease will be holding a west coast regional training class at the Blue Star Learning Center in San Diego, CA, the company announced this week. The popular two-day class is sure to be a sell-out.

“We are so excited to be holding the class in such a beautiful area,” says Chris Kopriva, Director of Training for Caterease. “Those of us here who have been to San Diego absolutely love it, and are really looking forward to going back.”

California is a state replete with Caterease users, according to Kopriva. “We get frequent requests for training classes out there,” Kopriva says. “Our last one in the area was in Newport Beach – another beautiful location.”

The San Diego class is scheduled for Tuesday, March 23 and Wednesday, March 24, from 9 AM to 4 PM. Topics covered will run the gamut from basic data entry to program setup and customization and to more advanced querying and data management features.

“There’s something for everybody,” Kopriva notes. “We’ve had students who have been using Caterease for years, and some who haven’t even installed it yet. They all come away with a new outlook on how to make the program fit their needs.”

Kopriva points out that the Caterease instructors are often not the only source of information in these classes. “The great thing about a regional training,” he explains, “is that the entire class is comprised of various event management professionals who are all using Caterease to run their businesses. So, there is always this great sharing of ideas – people offering insider suggestions on how to make the best use of the program. It’s really a neat atmosphere.”

The San Diego class will have software and hardware provided, as well as training manuals and materials. For more information, contact Caterease at 800.863.1616, or visit their website at www.caterease.com/training.htm.
