Naples, Florida –

Cape Cod, Massachusetts is an easy place to love. Steeped in history, tradition and good old New England charm, it is home to many places that define the word “quaint”. Among them is the Dan'l Webster Inn.

Nestled in the coastal village of Sandwich, this boutique inn named for its recurring and famous visitor boasts a rich 300 year history. Originally home to a local reverend and his family, it was opened as a tavern from the mid 1700s until the 1800s. In addition to hosting the famous statesman Daniel Webster, the tavern served as the patriot headquarters during the Revolutionary period.

Today, the inn is recognized as a Distinguished Restaurant of North America, placing it among the top 1% of restaurants in the country. A popular venue for conferences, weddings and other special events, the inn offers a creative menu of traditional favorites as well as seasonal, unique chef's specials. The atmosphere is one of unparalleled allure, with elegant, spacious meeting rooms, beautiful dining rooms and a courteous, professional staff. Prestigious awards such as Mobil's "Four Star" Award and Wine Spectator's "Best Of" Award for Excellence offer testament to the inn's exceptional service and accommodations.

For years, this impressive establishment has relied on Caterease Software to help it keep track of all its essential event details. Understanding the importance of a solid reputation and superior product, the folks at Dan'l Webster put their trust in Caterease to provide them with the perfect solution for their event management needs. Now, these two businesses with their extraordinary individual histories share a remarkable history together.

“Dan'l Webster has owned our program since it was written in DOS,” notes Chris Kopriva, Caterease Director of Training. “Since then, they've installed us in their sister property, and we, like they, have grown to become a leader in our industry.”

And the future appears to be just as bright as the past for both companies. Caterease continues to release revolutionary upgrades as its sales boom, while Dan'l Webster is keeping pace with tomorrow with such eclectic features as a beautiful, full-service spa and free, wireless, high-speed internet connections throughout the property.

“It's obvious that both of our companies have been around for a while and we intend to stay ahead of our competition,” Kopriva says. “Our history gives us more than just respect, it gives us an edge. It makes us more aware of the needs of our prospective clients, so that we can offer them the best solutions.”
