Caterease Training Class a Winner in Vegas

For Immediate Release
Friday, February 11, 2005

Naples, Florida –

The training staff at Caterease Catering and Event Management Software recently launched their 2005 training season, holding their third annual regional training class in Las Vegas, Nevada. The popular two-day class, held each year in January following the Catersource convention, was once again extremely well-attended and extremely well-received.

“The Vegas training is such a great way to start the year,” says Chris Kopriva, Caterease Director of Training. “It’s always a fun, friendly crowd, and we usually have exciting new program features to discuss.”

This year, attendees got a sneak peek at the upcoming Caterease release, version 8.0. That, in addition to the many other topics discussed in the class, generated a great deal of excitement.

“I always love the reaction of people when they discover program features they didn’t even know existed,” Kopriva says of the class. “Most of the time, their eyes light up at the thought of how much time a certain tool will save them. So often users seem to get stuck in the same basic routine, and don’t take time to explore other powerful areas of the program.

“In the Vegas class,” Kopriva continues, “I offered an introductory glance at some amazing new features coming in Caterease 8.0. That really got the room buzzing.”

Caterease 8.0, due to be released in early April, is the newest upgrade of this revolutionary software program. Most Caterease users – those with active Maintenance Plans – will get the upgrade completely free of charge.

Kopriva declined to comment on specific features in the innovative new upgrade. “We’ll have to wait a few more weeks for the official announcement,” he said. “Or, you could always sign up for an upcoming training class.”
