Caterease Software Announces Interface with StaffMate Online

For Immediate Release
Wednesday, April 14, 2010

Naples, Florida –

Caterease Software, leader in the catering and event management software industry, recently announced the release of a powerful new interface with StaffMate Online, the online staffing system.

While Caterease already boasts impressive staff and shift management features, this handy interface takes that functionality to the next level – by instantly communicating shift details to StaffMate and allowing employees to schedule themselves online.

“The StaffMate Interface is a great way for businesses to quickly and easily communicate their staffing needs to their employees,” says Chris Kopriva, Caterease Director of Training. “Once shifts have been booked in Caterease, a simple mouse click passes all of that information directly to StaffMate – without any duplicate data-entry.”

The inherent capabilities of Caterease make establishing necessary shifts for an event incredibly easy. Caterers and event planners can even assign “wizard rules” for their various shifts – indicating, for example, how many “Bartenders” or “Waitstaff” are required for certain events based on such things as theme, event “category” or guest counts. It is even possible to attach a price to a shift if desired, so customers are charged for the staffing services they are provided. The caterer simply retrieves the appropriate shifts for a particular party, and all of the necessary math is automatically calculated by the program (although it can be overridden by the caterer if desired). With all of the details quickly retrieved in Caterease, the interface allows them to be instantly passed to StaffMate.

“Any caterer or event planner who uses StaffMate to staff their parties really needs this tool,” Kopriva insists. “It completely eliminates the need to enter your shift information twice, and provides you with a powerful opportunity to make that information widely available to all of your employees.”

Caterease is fond of telling its users that they should “never have to type the same thing more than once” into the program. With this StaffMate interface, that concept is extended outside of the program as well – and Caterease continues to do its best to make repetitive data-entry a thing of the past for caterers and event planners everywhere.
